PROGRESS 2 - THE SECOND DEVELOPMENT CONFERENCE

Dear Sir,

May I point out firstly, that the editor of TIO is responsible for its contents and that the views expressed are not necessarily those of the IOA Executice Committee or of its Officials.

It seems that John McCullough and maybe others missed the point put forward by the Mapping Development Working Group representatives and myself; that it was an imposition to expect members to make themselves available for a third time, to discuss their Report with the IOA Executive. Subjectively it appeared that the IOA was disinterested in implementing the contents of the Report in broad terms and instuting a process of procrastination. However the IOA Chairman insisted that a further meeting was essential and the date for this meeting with the Mapping Group was subsequently set for December 5th, 10 weeks after the Development Conference.

A resumé - The Mapping Group Report was available in the summer Frank Martindale asked me in July to arrange for the Group Heads to to meet the IOA Executive on the eve of the Development Conference. This was done, but on checking the week of the meeting, I found thet Frank, the Chairman was unable to attend. So I had to cancel the meeting

Three members of the IOA Executive - Julie Martindale, Joan Morrissey and Ted McGrath informed me prior to the Conference that they would be unavailable. Unfortunately only the IOA Chairman and the IOA Development Officer attended, so unexpectedly an IOA Committee Quorum was not reached. I had not anticipated this situation.

I am distressed that John McCullough did not emphasise the hard work expertise and brilliant far seeing ideas put forward by the Development Working Groups. They do indeed form the basis of a 5 year Plan for the future and I happily anticipate ratification of their Reports by the IOA Executive.

Constant negative criticism is understandably a widespread phenomenom of immature orienteering federations. We, in Ireland will overcome any such tendancies and work towards a characteristic and indigenous Irish Orienteering situation, with high standards and enjoyable O sport. The IOF Congress organisation and the skills and enthusiasm of the Development Working Group Members show that we have already the s abilities to make Irish Orienteering a fulfilling experience for all.

I will conclude by thanking the members of the Technical, Publicity Coaching and Mapping Development Working Groups most sincerely for their dedication and significant findings and suggestions. The Mapping Group Report for one, is recognised as excellent, not only by Irish but by International standards.

Dear Sir,

I recently looked up an article on hypothermia which you published last year in the Irish Orienteer. (See TIO No. 2, November 1982). After a recent event which I organised, when two girls got lost for many hours, I realised how vulnerable orienteers can be to this condition. All orienteers should set a limit on the time they should stay out on an event, after which time they should admit defeat and head for the finish before fatigue sets in. This is especially important for juniors, but nobody is safe when conditions are bad. How to get back to the finish may not be obvious or easy to the fatigued. Some basic skills to this effect should be taught to all beginners.

Yours Sincerely,
Brian Power. (Setanta Orienteers)

The Editor,
The Irish Orienteer.

Dear Editor,

Over the past few months our national newspapers have been running an interesting if intermittent fiction series on orienteering. At least I assume it is fictional as the events mentioned, results given and comments bear no resemblance to the events that I attended. The author's name remains a mystery; even a pseudonym such as I.M. Lost or K.M. Pass would have added a certain piquancy to this series. Perhaps it is a case of "only the names have been changed to protect the innocent" - or something!

However, I do miss the Orienteering Notes which had appeared regularly prior to the start of fictional events. These were informative about coming events, gave a resume of a particular event and printed the results. Sometimes the classes got a little mixed up (proof-reading is not what it used to be), but on the whole they made interesting reading and they appeared on a regular basis. It is always nice to see one's name in print in a national newspaper, when one has won and it is particularly encouraging for juniors, (and indeed for a certain W.35 as well!).

Let us hope that 1985 will see the return of the "true" orienteering notes in our national press, when we can once again enjoy reading about our sport.

Yours, etc.,

Dear Sir,

Thank you for your sensible arguments in regard to utilising the meagre resources available to orienteering in developing the sport at lower levels than Elite.

Orienteering has a great deal to offer the young people of our country, developing as it does such skills as self reliance and decision making and sharpening powers of observation. It also offers parents, particularly of teenage families, a tremendous opportunity to share the enjoyment of the young in a sport which makes room for all age groups. I speak from experience - orienteering has enriched beyond measure our family life and brought a great spirit of comradeship and joy to all the participating Morrishes.

The P.E. teacher at the school where I teach recently remarked that he was staggered at the amount of participation right through the season which was evident during my last year's efforts at establishing the sport at our school. He pointed out that with team games the most you can hope for is a few over and above the number required for a team. Those unlikely to make the team become quickly aware and drop out.

So how to build on this enthusiasm? Obviously we must encourage and enthuse teachers who will be willing to take on the promotion of the sport in schools. Here I must praise a dedicated band of teachers in Cork who run a schools league for elite runners, but I am more interested in getting as many kids, and their parents, out into the forest as possible - fun-running principally, with a good standby service for those showing enough promise and ambition to join the Elites as they grow older.

I am much encouraged by your comment and give you my unqualified support for the idea of sending a worthwhile team to WOC in France.

I also support Maura Thornhill's idea that clubs should organise technical training sessions at regular intervals during the season.

Mise le meas,
Mairin Morrish. (Lee Orienteers)

TIGLIN NEWS

Tiglin Adventure Centre is currently revising its policy on orienteering. Over recent years we have introduced around 1000 people per year to orienteering. Now some more specific courses are to be run, aimed at teachers, youth leaders and at more established orienteers.

March 2/3 sees a course geared towards teachers and youth leaders running their own orienteering programmes.

An orienteering training camp will be held on 23/24 March. This will consist mainly of a series of training exercises set out in nearby forests, and some talks by experienced orienteers. The emphasis will be on a weekend's orienteering strengthening weaknesses for the upcoming competitive season: the Leinster Champs, JK, Irish Champs (to be held within 10 miles), etc.

A new map of part of Co. Wicklow is being prepared by Tiglin staff at the moment mainly for teaching mountain navigation. The map is based on recent photogrammetry, and will be printed at 1:25 000 scale with 15 metre contours. A long O/mountain marathon will be run on the map on May 19 1985.

Other planned developments are intermediate level courses in orienteering and a mapping course geared towards the production of simple street and park maps.

THOMOND ORIENTEERS

Dear Sir,

I should certainly hope that the IOA Jackboot would not fall on us 'mid-western' orienteers for holding a major event in the middle (? actually near the end) of a closed season of which no official word has been heard. You forget, sir, that you are privy to information not available to the average N21.

We always have good weather for our events and don't expect the Met. office or the Good Lord to let us down for the mid-west two-day.

Anyway, real men positively relish orienteering in the depths of winter! *

Yours faithfully,

Alan Shaw

(ex Chairman)

ThO

REPORT OF THOMOND ORIENTEERS A.G.M. 19 DECEMBER 1984.

After seven years of rule by the same Chairman and Secretary ThO has now had a complete change of officers. The new Chairman is David McCormack of scouting fame (to mention but one) and the Secretary is late of Setanta transferred for an undisclosed sum - Michael Carr. Treasurer is Carl Dolan, and Equipment Officer Gay Dunne. A number of Committee members were also elected: David Dunne, Marie Collison, Caroline Nash, Alan Shaw, Fiona McGoldrick (Who are they?) and Ger Finnin. The new Chairman hopes to bring some innovative ideas into orienteering in the Limerick area. Congratulations and the best of luck to him and his team.

Presentations were made to the outgoing Chairman and Secretary in recognition of their seven years' work. In her annual report the outgoing Secretary summarised the main events of the past year - the club organised an average of one event per month and some members have done well in competition. The report pointed out some areas where not as much was achieved as might have been, for instance in instructional type events, particularly for groups needing it at intermediate level. Regular training sessions would also be desirable Gay Dunne hopes to organise these in the new year. We might also try to develop the Sma Troll system, introduced to Limerick by Tim Walshe. The Most Improved Orienteer award was presented to M10 Eoin Shaw who performed consistently well, coming second in both the Irish and the Munster Championships.

IOA NEWS

1985 World Orienteering Championships.

The following is the policy which the IOA Executive have decided to implement with regard to the WOC '85:

A team will be selected early in 1985, but little or no funding will be available from the Irish Orienteering Association International Fund. Those selected who are willing to travel must be prepared to pay their entire expenses. Team members will not be replaced if they cannot afford to go. The Executive feel that in the long term, present limited funds would be better utilised in preparing Irish competitors for future international competitions.

1985 IOA Annual General Meeting.

The 1985 IOA AGM will be held on Saturday, March 2nd, venue to be announced. Proposals for amendments to the Rules or Constitution and pen portraits of Executive nominations must be received in writing by the IOA Secretary by 1/2/85.

Mactire Trophy, 1985.

Nominations (seniors only) are now being received for the Mactire Trophy for Outstanding Services to Orienteering in 1984. Please send them in writing to the IOA Secretary by 31/1/85. Presentation will be made at the AGM.

Any club that wishes to have their new maps (ie maps produced during 1984) considered for an award should send 6 copies of the map in question to Alan Shaw, 40 College Park, Corbally, Limerick.

The categories are as follows:

a) Area capable of holding a Grade 1 or Championship event
b) Area not capable of sustaining any event grade higher than Grade 2
c) A remapped area with enough new terrain included in the map to make course planning significantly different.

Also on the topic of maps, would any clubs who have produced a new map in the last six months, please forward 10 copies of each map to me for the IOA files, address above.

Course Planning Competition.

Packages for the Course Planning Competition are available from Alan Shaw, John McCullough (the editor) or myself at the cost of £2.00.
The map being used is Killary and the judge is Ian McMillan, BOF Chairman.

Areas out of bounds.

Recently the Department of Fisheries and Forestry issued a list of areas, including forests that have been declared 'Out of Bounds' to amoungst others, orienteers. This move has been made for ecological reasons. The Mapping Officer will be (has already...) contacting clubs who are affected by this news, but it is a good idea for people planning on mapping an area to check with the local Forester on this subject, and so not waste valuable time mapping an area which cannot then be used.

Scotland v. Ireland challenge.

Congratulations to the Irish team at the recent Irish 2-Day that beat the Scottish team in the annual Challenge - full marks especially to Wally Young and Eileen Loughman on two marvellous performances.

Cospoir 'Women in Sport' Award.

Congratulations to two IOA representatives in the recent Cospoir 'Women in Sport' awards. Following on Diana Large's achievement last year both Eileen Loughman GEN and Nuala Creagh 3ROC were awarded runner-up prizes. Well done, ladies!

Fixtures.

Contrary to what appeared on the most recent Fixtures List (although the Fixtures List in this mag. may be correct!) the Leinster Championships have been postponed by 2 weeks. Instead a Grade 1 event will be organised by DUO in Glencree on 17th March.
The 1985 Intervarsity event is being held in conjunction with the Mid-West 2-Day. For details contact Caitriona Brennan, c/o Bolton St. College of Technology, Dublin 1.

ATTENTION ALL CLUB SECRETARIES.

IOA Census Forms.

Despite the fact that the 18th of December is well past as I type this, less than 20% of the IOA Census forms have been returned - so PLEASE return them to me as soon as possible.

NEW NATURE RESERVES AFFECT ORIENTEERING

In the past few years nineteen nature reserves have been established by the Minister for Fisheries and Forestry under the 1976 Wildlife Act. Two of these areas are already used for orienteering: The Raven at Curracloe, Co. Wexford (used for the 1981 Irish Championships) and The Vale of Clara, Co. Wicklow, which includes the forest of Cronybyrne, and a third, the Glen of the Downs, in Co. Wicklow, has long been earmarked for mapping.

The reasons for the formation of these reserves are as follows:

The Raven: This is a large, well developed sand dune ecosystem some 589 hectares in extent and comprises State forest property, foreshore and seabed. The area supports a full range of duneland animals, several of which are of particular interest and has a rich flora including some rare species. It is one of the best developed sand dune systems on the east coast. Established 31 July 1983.

Vale of Clara: A large area of fragmented oak wood mostlt on the east side of the Avonmore River. It contains the largest area of semi-natural woodlands in Co. Wicklow and is potentially one of the largest stands of native hardwoods in the country. The area has been at least partially under woodland since the last Ice Age. "The oakwoods are also of high scenic value". Established 29 December 1983.

Glen of the Downs: an area of sessile oak, 59 hectares in extent, a very good example of the dryer (sic) type of oakwood characteristic of acid soils in Co. Wicklow. Established 13 June 1980.

Some other areas affected by the formation of these reserves are Coole-Garryland at Gort, Co. Galway, and Deputy's Pass, near Glenealy, Co. Wicklow. Coole-Garryland reserve includes land formerly owned by Lady Gregory and adjacent to, or including the existing O-map of Coole Park, while Deputy's Pass has also been considered for orienteering.

The attitude of the Department of Forestry is that 'the use of nature reserves for orienteering is incompatible with the objectives of conservation, the principal conflicts arising from the disturbance to animals and/or damage to plants and vegetation". A letter continues "The Department must, therefore prohibit orienteering in the reserves....As an exception to the prohibition the Department is willing to allow those currently orienteering in the Vale of Clara Reserve and the woodland portion of the Raven nature reserve to continue recreational orienteering until 1 June 1987. However, competitive orienteering at national or international level must be barred because of the risk of damage to these ecosystems by large numbers of participants and spectators". The letter does, however, finish on the slightly more otimistic note that the vast bulk of State forest property will remain available for orienteering.

The manner in which these reserves were created only serves to remind us of how dependent we are on the Department of Forestry for the future of our sport, but it also makes one wonder what kind of sport they think orienteering is ("damage to ...ecosystems by large numbers of participants and spectators"). I think that the environmental damage, if any, inflicted by Irish orienteering must be so slight as to defy detection. After all, you could lose an average Irish event crowd in the showers at the Swedish 5-Day.

I think that it is very important that the IOA maintain contact with Forestry to ensure that orienteers and orienteering, in common with other recreational users of our forests, have their requirements given consideration. Orienteers and other responsible groups using forests used to be welcomed as being a deterrent to would-be vandals - let us hope that this attitude will again prevail, and that we will be recognised as a group with a keen and a legitimate interest in the future of our forests.

GEN NEWS.....GEN NEWS.....GEN NEWS.....GEN NEWS.....GEN NEWS.....GEN NEWS.....

SEASONAL REFLECTIONS

For some time we have been grappling with one of the trivial mysteries of Irish orienteering. What is the function of "GEN NEWS"? Because of the Editor's idiosyncratic copy deadlines and lagged publication dates it is virtually useless as a means of informing GEN members of forthcoming activities...and some of us prefer to forget the past. It is of absolutely no help in attracting new members as non-orienteers are much too sensible to read TIO. However, TIO Editor, the ever resourceful John McCullough, has provided the answer. Readers may recall a puzzling reference in the last "GEN NEWS" to the Editor's time (3.10) in the Dublin City Marathon. Our precipient John (Huh? -Ed.) had, of course, recognised that "GEN NEWS" provides a permanent public record for achievements and exploits which might otherwise slip gently into obscurity. No other Dublin club offers such a platform. The curious reader will search in vain through teh celibately austere lines of the AJAX news spot for a reference to any individual achievement. The Setanta page reeks of antiseptic efficiency - no room here for eccentric individuality- and there is little scope for personal advertisement in the congested anonymity of the 3ROC journal (more about 3ROC later). Following the Editor's courageous innovation we will in future, for a modest fee, publicise the orienteering exploits of non-members.

CONGRATULATIONS

We have just learned that Eileen Loughman has been selected for an award in the COSPOIR/IT magazine "Sportswoman of the Year" competition. Well done, Eileen. This is the third year a GEN member has carried off an award in this competition. The trail was blazed by Maura Thornhill and Diana Large secured a prize last year. Will next year's entry please step forward.

The GEN team of Eileen Loughman, Charlotte Bonar-Law and Maura Thornhill took first place in the Women's Open class in the Leinster Relays. Andrea McCormack, Maura Moran and Diana Large beat all comers in the W35 class. Despite Doug Barry's best efforts he and his fellow team-members (Philip Ryan and David Quinn) failed to carry the day (or even a prize) in the men's open. We missed Tom McCormack who apparently prefers flattening sand dunes in Saudi-Arabia.

At the Irish 2 Day Eileen was the first Irish competitor and team-member home. Paget McCormack, despite a superb run on Day 2, failed to catch up on Aubrey Flegg's lead from Day 1 and had to settle for 2nd place. Andrew Bonar-Law was pushed into 2nd place in the M45 class. Diana Large was well ahead in the W45's and a relative newcomer, Caroline O'Friel came 2nd in the W40's. Maura Moran and Hazel Newman also did well.

AGM

Years of patience were rewarded and Andrew Bonar-Law was unanimously elected as Chairman. Other committee members elected were:

Treasurer Paget McCormack 11 Green Road, Blackrock, Co. Dublin (to whom membership subscriptions of £6.00 (family), £5.00 (adult individual) and £3.00 (junior or student) should be sent).

Secretary Don Thornhill (no one else would take the job)

Other committee: Philip Ryan, Joan Morrissey, Maura Moran, Michael Hewson, Tom McCormack.

Andrew showed his mettle at a subsequent committee meeting which dealt (apparently successfully) with a substantive 14 point agenda. The next committee meeting will be held in late 1986.

SHAME-ON-YOU

We are grateful to club stalwart David Quinn for drawing our attention to an unsavoury incident at the Irish 2 Day:"Just as darkness fell, two young girls who had gone astray on their courses were found and returned to their companions after drinks and souvenirs" - Extract from Controller's Report, Day 2.

3ROC have, according to their last newsheet, shifted their t raining venue to the sybaritic location of Parkes Hotel. We were even more dismayed to note that "showers are available afterwards, for those of you who are fastidious".

TRAINING

The first inter-club training event was organised by Maura Thornhill and Maura Moran on 1 December last. 3ROC and Setanta are scheduled to organise events on the first Saturdays of January and February, respectively.

EASTERN COMMAND ORIENTEERS

IRISH TWO-DAY

A special thank you to ALL club members for the assistance at the Irish two-day. It's worth noting that over 40 members were involved any every one pulled his weight (or hers). Without mentioning anyone in particular, if you were on any of the following teams, consider yourself a STAR*: start teams (2), finish team, manned controls, results, results display, registration and assembly area, car parking, event centre team, disco and supper organisers, and cooks. A word of thanks too to the Cootehill forester,)/C 29 Inf. Bn., the Principal of St. Aidan's School, the owner of the assembly area field, and the church authorities. Also, thanks to the Monaghan gentleman who moved his cattle at short notice!

Appreciation must also be expressed towards our sponsor, DEXTROSOL. We look forward to a happy association with them and urge all orienteers to make a new year resolution - give up Vaseline - take Dextrosol instead.

Finally, a public thank you to SETANTA ORIENTEERS for their unselfish help and co-operation.

RECENT RESULTS

Well done the Open Relay Team - ECO ran out winners of the Munster Relays and were a very good second in the Leinster Relay Championships - it just goes to show, you shouldn't believe all you read in the newspapers. In fact if our star runner hadn't had a disaster on the first leg of the Leinster Championships we could have made it two in a row. Murph and I are "sick and tired ob beating etc etc..."

By the time you read this the ECO v 3ROC Irish Orienteer Trophy match will be over. (3ROC 56, ECO 28 Ed.) On paper it doesn't look like we can beat them: anyone know where we can get a classroom full of schoolgirls for next year?

LAST EVENT

Fauna, January 6th. Thanks to all the stars* who helped out on the day, and to the major officials: Planner Kieran MacDonald and Organiser Dermot Hickey. The GEN v LVO Irish Orienteer Trophy match will have taken place at this event - the first event of 1985 (except for training events). I recall we organised the first event of '84 in Fauna also and it was a great success.

SEASON'S GREETINGS to one and all, and to all orienteers: Whatever you seek in 1985, may you find it with the minimum of mistakes.

LSOA LEINSTER SCHOOLS ORIENTEERING ASSOCIATION

As the title suggests the association promotes the sport among school children. While most of the children come from the post primary sector we do not exclude the younger ones. At present there are 23 affiliated schools coming mainly from the outer suburban areas in a wide circle from Bray to Ballinteer, Tallaght, Naas, Palmerstown, Raheny, Sutton and Portmarnock with a cluster in the Stillorgan area.

This season to date we have held 5 events which have each been attended by 400-500 people (70% of these under 17 years). We have been helped by fortunate weather and better organisation in each case. For the first time this year we have worked on the basis that 2 schools jointly run the event, one being an old hand and the other a newcomer. The system has worked very well.

Another innovation has been the introduction of a schools league. Competitors who run in their correct age class score points and their best 5 events out of 8 will count. This does not cut across our annual Championships which take place in April. Yet another new aspect this year has been the contact with the Cork Schools Assoc. and hopefully in a few months we will get together in a challenge between the Dublin and Cork regions.

However the competitive side is only a small aspect of the Association's work. The vast majority of our members are new to the sport and consequently a lot of energy goes into helping the children. Over the past year several committee members have gone into schools to talk to the children. In this regard a step forward will be made on Jan. 26th. at our course in Wesley College. This course is offered free to teachers, youth leaders and other adults interested in spreading the sport among youngsters. Details of the course appear elsewhere in this newsletter.

The remaining fixtures for the school year are: Jan. 20th. Cloghleagh (organisers Old Bawn and Rockbrook Park)
Feb. 10th. Curragh (organisers Newpark and Naas)
Mar. 10th. Carrigolligan (Col. Iosagain and Sutton Park)
Apr. 28th. Tiglin (Champs. Wesley and Col. Dhulaigh)

Defending the trophies are Oatlands (boy's cup), Wesley and Col. Iosagain jointly (girl's cup) and Newpark (Bank of Ireland Trophy for orienteering in new schools).

The affiliation for any school for the year is £10 payable to the Secretary, 36, Wedgewood, Sandyford Road, D.16.

THE 1984 IRISH TWO-DAY : A REVIEW

The Irish Two Day 1984 was widely heralded and eagerly awaited with the promise of good orienteering on a previously "unmapped" part of Ireland. The presence of the Swedish B-team and the Scots added an unknown elemant of competition to the senior classes. How good would they be?

The first day's competition, at Cootehill, Co. Cavan was run on an area low hills, lakes and islands. The terrain was basically featureless, and the course planning at least on the senior courses- likewise. Whilst offering some fine route choice, it came down to the old combination of roads, earthbanks, etc. Throw in a couple of dubiously mapped areas and it wasn't exactly up to scratch for an international event. The Swedes didn't feel too good about using drain junctions as control features. However, it was a change from the type of orienteering usually on offer in Leinster. Hands up all those who ran to the roads which conveniently circumvented each uncrossable body of water! (These turned out to be black lines bounding the lakes, not roads - Ed.) A free fix of Dextrosol was available at the finish.

That afternoon we watched Australia pip Ireland at Landsdowne Road from the comfort of a Cootehill bar in the company of a somewhat obnoxious Aussie! Meanwhile UCD/ Bolton St. were using Shanks Mare since thay forgot to ask their bus to stay the weekend. Compulsory viewing for those doubting Thomases who question the religious mores of orienteers was the (Last) Supper in the Tanagh Military Post where hungry souls lined the pews on bended knees, preying on the food! Resurrection came in the form of cheap pints and a disco. The Scots were there, but the Swedes are apparently into neither piety nor drinking.

Day Two at Mullaghmeen, Co. Westmeath, dawned wet and windy and the long haul saw Paddy O'Brien's old Peugeot expire on the roadside, along with a few start times. The terrain at Mullaghmeen turned out to best one of the best forested areas in Ireland at present available. Consisting of a largish hill and outlying smaller tops, there are many fine contour and rock features. The forest is often with good visibility although a little slower underfoot due to the rocky, rooty nature of deciduous woodland.

This all combined to give greater potential, and the course planning reflected this. Rarely on the senior courses did the optimum route lie along roads to too great an extent. Variety and thoughtful planning was evident, and I particularly liked the fine-orienteering required at the end of the run, just when you relax!

Regarding the unknown element of competition, Wally Young did us proud with a fine 2nd on Day 1 and a 3rd place overall in M21A. Similarly, Eileen Loughman, Patricia Murphy and Deirdre ni Challanain managed to squeeze out all the Scottish ladies.

Overall it was a worthwhile weekend's orienteering, and thanks to the Eastern Command Orienteers and Setanta Orienteers teams for running the event.

The following extracts from the minutes of Munster Orienteering Association Executive Committee meetings have been smuggled to the outside world disguised as Drisheens. We are grateful to the courier for risking life and limb to bring us these true stories of everyday folk. Operation Motley Fool...

THREE ROCK ORIENTEERING CLUB

A Happy New Year to all our members, and to everyone elso out there in O-land, and a reminder that your annual subscriptions are now due: a good time to pay them would be at the club's Annual General Meeting at Glenalbyn Sports Centre, Stillorgan on Friday, January 25th. Glenalbyn is beside the overflow car park at the Stillorgan Shopping Centre, and the house where the bar and the meeting will be is behind the Kilmacud Crokes GAA field. All members are welcome. On past experience, you may be more likely to be elected to the committee if you stay away than if you come, so why not come?

Thanks to everybody who helped at our recent events: the Leinster Relay Championships at Tiglin, the Christmas Score event on Three Rock, and the training event on January 5th at Pine Forest. It's great to see so much willing help. We'll be calling on you again on February 3rd for a Grade 3 event at Kilmashogue, behind Grange golf club. Ian MacNeill is the man to contact in order to volunteer. (982762).

Congratulations to Nuala Creagh for being runner up (with Eileen Loughman) in the Cospoir/IT Magazine "Women in Sport" awards. Better luck next time. Congratulations also to our winners at the Irish 2-Day and Leinster Relays, to name but a few.

Welcome home to Ronan Cleary and Mark Donovan back from the USA for Christmas, and partly gone again by the time you read this. Welcome back, also, to the Rowes' dog, who found mapping such fun that he decided to keep going all night!

Speaking of mapping, the survey for the Irish Championships in April is in its dying moments as I write, so our next projects are being uncovered. Surveying will start on new and old areas as soon as IOC is out of the way, so don't hang up your clinometers and pencils. Contact Barry Dalby (0404-4169) if you can offer your services. A number of new people have started mapping lately, so it's not just for the old hands.

The Irish Championships draws ever closer (April 20/21). If you heven't yet offered to help, you can still do so. Even if you have mislaid your questionnaire you can still ring to put yourself forward as a helper. The confidential telephone number is 697107 (Converys): all you have to do is leave your name! A lot of work has to be done in the months and weeks leading up to the events, so help is needed as much now as on the day, possibly even moreso.

In the more routine matters of club life, training has resumed after a brief Christmas respite, the venue being Oatlands College, Stillorgan, every Wednesday evening at 6.30. And I remind you that we DO have showers for that post run condition: GEN are to change their name to Green Envious Navigators.

Tracksuits and orienteering suits are still available in club colours: contact Trina Cleary at 904177 to give her your vital statistics.

The social whirl continues at Revels pub in Rathfarnham village on the last Thursday of each month, from about 9.00. We are, as usual, to be found upstairs, towards the front, looking healthy and fit but gulping in great lungfuls of other peoples filthy smoke...a delightful prospect. Still, that's where you'll find us.

We (of course) defeated Eastern Command Orienteers at the Irish Orienteer Trophy event at Ravens Rock, despite some spirited resistance, so we go forward to meet Lagan Valley of Belfast in the next round, before the end of March. A venue will be advertised shortly. Well done, all, for turning out on such a day and well done LVO for defeating GEN, the unwashed.

If you have any enquiries, contact: Secretary Michael McAuliffe (982315) Treasurer Trina Cleary (904177) or Chairman John McCullough (981556).

FIOA INTRODUCE RANKING LIST

The first copy of the FIOA Ranking List is now available. The initial list includes orienteers from all Irish clubs, giving an example of the format, identifying the events to be used for ranking in 1985, and other details.

To cover the cost of the Ranking List, O-clubs whose members wish to be included in future lists are asked to subscribe £12.50 to the FIOA, c/o FIOA Secretary, Faith White, The Lake House, Crookedwood, Mullingar, Co. Westmeath.

The FIOA wishes you fun and motivation with this ranking system which is designed for the interest of orienteers at all levels.

FW

The new FIOA Irish Ranking List is a prototype using available results from 1984 IOC, JK, Scottish Champs, NI Champs, Munster Champs and Irish 2-Day. Obviously there are many omissions, but it is expected that the next issue (after IOC '85) will be correct and will include all the relevant runners. By then the notion of ideal winning time and the other grey areas will have been clarified.

AFAS COURSES 1985: A selection.

March 2/3	Orienteering for teachers and youth leaders.
2/3	Mountain Rescue.
23/24	Orienteering training camp.
April 20/21	Mountain first aid.
May 19	Mountain Marathon competition.

Details of these and all AFAS courses can be had from: Tiglin Adventure Centre, Ashford, Co. Wicklow. Tel. 0404-4169.

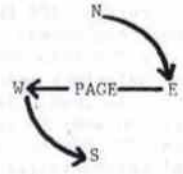
TRAINING WEEKEND FOR ELITE WOMEN

A training weekend for Elite Women orienteers is being organised by the Coaching Development group, chaired by Eileen Loughman (GEN). The donkeywork is being done by members of the men's elite squad, and all aspiring elite female orienteers are welcome. The course is to be organised during January 1985.

Contact Eileen Loughman for details, on 045-76001 (work).

BRATBERG & OLSSON TAKE WORLD CUP

Following events in Hungary, Switzerland, France, Czechoslovakia and Denmark, the 1984 Unofficial World Cup finished with Norway's Ragnhilde Bratberg taking the Womens series with 85 points, followed by team-mate Brit Volden (82), tying with Ada Kucherova (CSSR).
The Mens series was won by Sweden's Kent Olsson (80), closely followed by Tore Sagvolden (NOR), with Norway's Sindre Langaas - who did some mapping in Ireland about 4 years ago- third.
An Official World Cup competition, using six IOF events, will be run in 1986.



The cover photo was taken by Justin May at the Christmas Score event on Three Rock Mountain, and shows Jenny Russell (ECO) getting to grips with the results display.

The winter shows have arrived and Christmas has left us to think on what the new year will bring. It is now that one should take stock and plan for the year ahead. Some will be planning to study for an exam, others to buy a house or get married. It is also a good time to plan one's orienteering year.

For some, January will be the qualifying date for entry to a new class. For example, a girl who has been running W19 becomes eligible to run W21 on January 1 1985 if her twenty-first birthday is in 1985, even if her birthday is on December 31 1985.

The future:

The new year should see changes for the better in orienteering. Higher standards in the detail of mapping, planning, controlling and organising will mean that events will be run better than before. This in turn will benefit not only experienced runners but will encourage newcomers to take part.

The new year is a "WM" year. (WM is short for Weltmeisterschaft which is World Championship in German). This year it is to be held in Australia in September and it is proposed to send a mens' and a womens' team. Some would consider it to be a waste of effort and money to send only a mens' team let alone a womens one as well. These views have some valid arguments: part of this has to do with finance and the standard of the teams. The trip will cost a lot of money, both for the people taking part and for the IOA.

Sending a womens' team is vulnerable to argument because of the standard that exists and the quality of its depth. In spite of the high proportion of girls in orienteering in Ireland compared to other countries, few appear to be keen enough to try to get a place on the team. It need take only a slight improvement in one's performance to start affecting the team position. Lack of coaching may be a factor which has caused the poor development of this important area: the new year must see a change in this situation. The standard needs to be raised so that a womens' team consists of runners who can do 9-minutr kilometres over 8 km. This is the kind of standard that one should aim for, one that is quantifiable and not one that is based on relative performance. This is not to deny that the women are there, but to say "Please, let's do something soon to boost their prospects".

National Orienteering Day is now our best public relations exercise. Let's use it to its full advantage and recover the control of publicity that we need to have to operate this important day.

The Irish Orienteering Association consists of those people behind the scenes who make the decisions for the future and operate the machinery of orienteering. They work hard for us, and we should appreciate their thankless task. The AGM of the IOA is not too far off. It will be an exciting experience where stimulating and creative discussion will take place under a structured agenda with a time limit to ensure that all is covered in the time available. It will not be the place to go if you expect a dicsussion on the siting and coding of the third control at last week's event in what's his name's back garden.

The committment that some people are giving to the sport was recently demonstrated to me by a young woman when she commented that orienteering would always be a part of her life.

Best wishes to all in 1985, and let's hope peace gets a better chance.

David Quinn, Great Eastern Navigators, Dublin.
